Bechtler Museum of Modern Art, Levine Center for the Arts, 420 South Tryon St., Charlotte. Through Jan. 18, 2016 - "Portraying the Patron: Andy Warhol and the Bechtlers". On June 3, 1968, the militant feminist writer Valerie Solanas shot Andy Warhol at The Factory, his famous studio/club house in New York City. Although two bullets missed Warhol, the third went through his spleen, liver, stomach, and esophagus. He almost died during the five-hour surgery that followed, and remained bedridden for three months afterward. While at home, he painted small portraits of Mrs. Nelson Rockefeller, marking his return to portraiture, a theme that had preoccupied him since the 1950s and dominated his output for the remainder of his life. Through commissioned portraits, Warhol could control his public interactions and reliably earn a living. Through Mar. 7, 2016 - "Sam Francis: Rapid Fluid Indivisible Vision," will not only present the distinctive art Francis created, but will position him among the various artists whom he celebrated and influenced. The anchor of the show is the 1c Life portfolio that Francis edited with the poet/painter Walasse Ting in 1964. Collapsing geographical borders and stylistic differences, Francis and Ting assembled artists as varied as Joan Mitchell, Roy Lichtenstein, Asger Jorn, Robert Indiana, Karel Appel, Andy Warhol, Jean-Paul Riopelle, and Jim Dine to illustrate Ting's poetry in this portfolio. Ongoing - The Bechtler Museum of Modern Art is named after the family of Andreas Bechtler, a Charlotte resident and native of Switzerland who assembled and inherited a collection of more than 1,400 artworks created by major figures of 20th-century modernism and donated it to the public trust. The Bechtler collection comprises artworks by seminal figures such as Alberto Giacometti, Joan Miro, Jean Tinguely, Max Ernst, Andy Warhol, Alexander Calder, Le Corbusier, Sol LeWitt, Edgar Degas, Nicolas de Stael, Barbara Hepworth and Picasso. Only a handful of the artworks in the Bechtler collection have been on public view in the United States. Admission: Yes. Hours: Mon., Wed.-Sat., 10am-5pm; Sun. noon-5pm; and open until 9pm the 1st. and 3rd. Fri. of each month. Contact: 704/353-9200 or at (www.bechtler.org).

Sam Francis, "As for Appearance II", oil on canvas, 1963-1965

The exhibition comprises documentation of more than 20 performance art works spanning 15 years, including a new commission specifically made for Davidson College. Regina José Galindo was born in 1974 in Guatemala City, Guatemala where she currently lives and works. An internationally acclaimed visual artist specializing in performance art, Galindo is known for pushing her body to the limit to create powerful public works that challenge the inequalities and atrocities that have become commonplace across the globe. Summer Hours: Tue.-Thur., 10am-4pm. Contact: 704/894-2519 or at (www.davidsoncollegeartgalleries.org).

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts & Culture, Levine Center for the Arts, 551 S. Tryon St., Charlotte. Oct. 9 - Dec. 31 - "I'm Walkin' For My Freedom: The Selma March And Voting Rights". Photojournalist Matt Herron captured moments of the Selma to Montgomery march as the protesters traveled across Alabama. This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Selma to Montgomery march, the most significant of all civil rights marches and the one that led directly to the Voting Rights Act of 1965. The Voting Rights Act mandated federal oversight of all US counties with a history of voter discrimination against African Americans, and opened the door to voting for most Americans. Herron captured moments of the march as the protesters traveled across Alabama. Based in Mississippi in the early 1960's, Herron covered the Civil Rights struggle for "Life Magazine", "Look Magazine", "Time Magazine", "Newsweek Magazine", and the "Saturday Evening Post". He also provided photographs and support for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). Proudly presented by Bank of America. Through Dec. 31 - "AfriCobra Now: An Aesthetic Reflection," consist of two parts. The first section of the exhibit "AfriCobra: Art for the People" contains work from various AfriCOBRA members who joined in 1968 - when the group was founded in Chicago - to year 2000. AfriCOBRA's membership changed from the founding participants who exhibited at the Studio Museum in 1970 to a different membership after co-founder Jeff Donaldson moved to Washington, DC, in 1972. A third wave of membership began in 1979-1980. "AfriCOBRA Now" will look at work by the current membership formed after Jeff Donaldson died in 2004. This exhibition will reveal the shifting aesthetic of the influential group over their 40-plus year existence. Through Dec. 31 - "Charlotte Collects Elizabeth Catlett: A Centennial Celebration," is a centennial commemoration of Elizabeth Catlett's life and work. The exhibition will include examples of her two-dimensional and three-dimensional works, as well as photographs of Catlett. The narrative will also highlight the show coming from, and reflecting, Charlotteans' appreciation and collection of her work. Through Dec. 31 - "Inter-galactic Soul". Charlotte artists, Marcus Kiser and Jason Woodberry bring science fiction and social awareness together to explore a cosmic sci-fi theme that's driven by social, political and cultural undertones. Imagination meets consciousness to create an exhibition with a message for all to ponder, discuss and enjoy. Ongoing - Featuring selections from the John & Vivian Hewitt Collection of African-American Art, one of the nation's most important and comprehensive collections of African-American art. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun. 1-5pm. Contact: 704/547-3700 or at (www.ganttcenter.org).

Lake Norman Art League Gallery, 442 S. Main St., located across the street from Wooden Stone, next to Masterworks; enter at the rear of the building, and turn right into the lobby, Davidson. Ongoing - Featuring works by Lake Norman Art League members. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 8am-7pm. Contact: 704/620-4450 or at (www.LKNart.org).

Latin American Contemporary Art Projects (LaCa), 1429 Bryant Street, in the heart of the revitalized FreeMoreWest neighborhood, Charlotte. Through Oct. 30 - "Juan Dolhare: The Useless Mechanism". The exhibition curated by Rodrigo Alonso, one of Latin America's most influential curators, and features works by Argentine artist Juan Dolhare. Known for his work in Pop Surrealism featuring his distinctive approach to composition, color, and juxtaposition, this show embodies a universe of objects suspended in space and time, and that carry symbolic, religious or mystical charge. Ongoing - LaCa Projects is a platform dedicated to the presentation, development, and promotion of Latin American art and culture within the United States. The gallery encourages cross-cultural dialogue by representing a small group of influential and thought-provoking contemporary, emerging and mid-career artists, as well as exhibiting a broader range of work by established and Master Latin American artists. The gallery, which has expertise in a number of different art media with a significant focus on paintings, will also be part of a larger planned expansion that includes open artist studios and a dining concept. Hours: Mon.-Fri., 1-5pm or by appt. Contact: Neely Verano at (neely@lacaprojects.com) or call 704/609-8487.

Levine Museum of the New South, 200 E. Seventh St., corner of College St & Seventh St., Charlotte. Ongoing - "Cotton Fields to Skyscrapers," featuring a permanent exhibition featuring interactive environments that trace the history of the New South from the end of the Civil War until today. Admission: Yes. Free on Sat. Parking: next door in Seventh Street Station. Hours: Mon.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 704/333-1887 or at (www.museumofthenewsouth.org).

Mint Museum Randolph, 2730 Randolph Road, Charlotte. Ongoing - "American Glass". The nineteenth and early twentieth centuries represented a time of extraordinary growth for the American glass industry. Such companies as Boston & Sandwich Glass Company in Sandwich, MA; Steuben Glass Works in Corning, NY; and Libbey Glass Company in Toledo, OH, began operation and soon developed notable reputations for producing fashionable wares that were coveted by many middle- and upper-class consumers. "American Glass" showcases objects by these and other American glass companies, illustrating the variety of forms and styles that prevailed during this period. Glass-manufacturing techniques will be another focus of the exhibition, with representative examples of pressed, cut, blown, and molded glass. Nearly all of the works on view are from The Mint Museum's permanent collection of glass, which is second in size only to the ceramics collection in the museum's Decorative Arts holdings. Ongoing - "Arts of Africa". The African continent is remarkable in its geographic, social, political, and cultural diversity. This impressive diversity is reflected in the visual arts through a variety of media and forms including ceramics, masks, textiles, sculptures, prestige staffs, and shrines. With exceptional loans from private collectors and The Mint Museum's own collection of African Art, the museum is pleased
