Josef Albers, Homage to the Square - Insert, 1959, acrylic on fiberboard, Smithsonian American Art Museum, Gift of S.C. Johnson & Son, Inc.

Reynolda House Museum of American Art, Reynolda Road, Winston-Salem. Mary and Charlie Babcock Wing Gallery, Through Dec. 31 - "Modern Masters from the Smithsonian American Art Museum". The decades following World War II were heady times for American art. "Life", "Time", and "Newsweek" brought images of contemporary abstraction to households

throughout the country. With the blessing of the US government, New York museums toured exhibitions to the capitals of Europe. Galleries discovered new markets in the country's growing middle class, and newspapers celebrated American culture as an equal partner with technology in catapulting the United States to preeminence on the world stage. No longer dependent on teaching positions or occasional odd jobs, painters and sculptors enjoyed success, celebrity, and international acclaim. Northeast Bedroom Gallery, Through Feb. 20, 2012 - "Wonder and Enlightenment: Artist-Naturalists in the Early American South". A spirit of exploration dominated the political and intellectual growth of the country in America's early centuries, both before and after Independence. The primary form of exploration was the unremitting, conquering movement outward from Eastern ports into the far reaches of the continent. This military expansion had an intellectual corollary in the artists and naturalists who attempted to map their physical world and document in text and image the astonishing variety of flora and fauna native to their new country. This exhibition includes three plates from John James Audubon's Birds of America, a painting and four prints by Joshua Shaw, paintings by Edward Hicks and David Johnson, and an early edition of Mark Catesby's ornithological treatise. Ongoing - Collection of 18th through 20th century art, sculpture, American art, and pottery. Lilly McElroy, I Throw Myself at Men #12, 2008. Image courtesy of the artist.

Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art, 750 Marguerite Drive, Winston-Salem. Through Jan. 29, 2012 - "Lilly McElroy". McElroy is a young, Arizona-born artist who playfully, but poignantly moves between poles of aggression and intimacy. Drawing upon Western clichés, autobiography and the rituals of urban life, she stages public performances that confront the many tangled dimensions of human interaction. In this context, her ongoing photo series "I Throw Myself at Men" (2006-) turns a pathetic romantic euphemism into a platform for the artist to literally pitch herself at males while documenting the moment of contact. McElroy's exhibition at SECCA will combine photographic and video documentation of performances from the past three years - creating a conflicted, yet ultimately sincere self-portrait. The exhibit was organized by SECCA and curated by Steven Matijcio. Through Mar. 4, 2012 - "Out of Fashion". The word "fashion" is synonymous with trends, fads, immediacy and a fleeting exercise of life in the moment. Yet in the very ebb and flow of fashion's passing fancy, an accumulation of lives, stories and materials collects into an ambivalent history. The eclipse of a once-thriving textile industry in North Carolina speaks to the volatility of market-driven fashion/s, spurring new, regenerative practices from mountains to the coast. Rather than keeping up with the latest fashions (and their continuing demands of consumerism, turnover and excess) there is a movement amongst local artists and designers that turns instead to refuge, time and duration. Their work derives out of fashion, but is outside fashion's perpetual amnesia. Beyond the runway, this exhibition mines the histories of fashion as vessels of time, nature, and memory. The exhibit was organized by SECCA and curated by Steven Matijcio. Through Jan. 22, 2012 - "Margarita Cabrera: The Space in Between," organized by SECCA, Curated by Steven Matijcio. Cabrera is a Mexican-American artist, activist and organizer whose objects and activities address timely issues related to border relations, labor practices and immigration. Turning crafts and their manufacture into the vehicle for socio-political consideration, Cabrera orchestrates the creation of soft, vinyl sculptures resembling backpacks, bicycles, potted plants, domestic appliances, pianos, and full-sized automobiles. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm, Thur. till 8pm; Sun., 1-5 pm, and closed Mon. & state holidays. Admission is free. Contact: 336/725-1904 or at (www.secca.org).
