Columbia Area

Columbia Museum of Art, Main & Hampton Streets, Columbia. Lipscomb Family Galleries, Through Apr. 1 - "Nature and the Grand American Vision: Masterpieces of the Hudson River School Painters". 45 magnificent paintings from the rich collection of the New-York Historical Society tell the Hudson River School story in four grand thematic sections. Within these broad groupings, the paintings show how American artists embodied powerful ideas about nature, culture and history. These iconic works of 19th-century landscape painting are traveling as a group on a national tour for the first time and are circulating to four museums. The Columbia Museum of Art is the only stop in the Southeast. Mamie and William Andrew Treadway, Jr., Gallery 15, Through Apr. 29 - "Our Time, Our Place: The Black South of Richard Samuel Roberts". This installation features 24 photographs selected by the board of the Friends of African American Art and Culture membership affiliate group. South Carolina photographer Richard Samuel Roberts captured some of the most realistic collective images of African-American life in the early 20th century, especially the rise of the economically secure middle class. Roberts' photographs comprise a stunning visual history of the African-American community in Columbia. He frequently took his camera into the heart of the segregated Black District of Columbia and also to other towns and cities in the state. He photographed every facet of his community including bankers, teachers, social workers and even magicians, although he also made portraits of all people, regardless of race or economic conditions. David Wallace Robinson, Jr. Community Gallery, Feb. 14 - Apr. 1 - "The Life and Times of Judge Matthew Perry: Captured in Photographs by Cecil J. Williams". Honoring the life of the late

Honorable Matthew Perry, this exhibition features 30 photographs by Cecil Williams. Perry was the first African-American lawyer to be appointed to the federal judiciary in 1976. Perry became a towering civil rights figure who used his intellect, work ethic and courage to help end segregation. Williams' photographs have preserved the African-American experience throughout the second half of the 20th century. BB&T Focus Gallery, Ongoing - "Southern Traditions," will showcase the richness and diversity of the Museum's collection of furniture, ceramics, silver, basketry, sculpture and paintings by artists native to, or active in, South Carolina and its surrounding states. Among the works on view will be fine silver made by Charleston and Columbia silversmiths; a sweet grass basket by Mary Jackson (SC, born 1945); wood carvings by Edgar Alexander McKillop (NC, 1879-1950); and paintings by Charles Fraser (SC, 1782-1860), Xanthus Russell Smith (SC, 1839-1929), William Harrison Scarborough (SC, 1812-1871), William Aiken Walker (SC, 1838-1921), among others. Ray Taylor Fair Gallery, Ongoing - Featuring a new and permanent installation of its ancient art collection. The installation includes approximately 50 objects that introduce the major ancient civilizations from the Mediterranean and Near East. Examples of the earliest form of writing from 12th century B.C. Mesopotamia, are shown next to Egyptian scarabs and Greek painted vessels. The world of the ancient Romans is represented by 2nd century glass and bronze items and portrait sculpture. Many of these works have not been seen since the Museum moved to its location on Main Street in 1998. The collection has grown over the last several years with the donation of 12 fine Roman sculptures in 2002 from Pennsylvania collector Dr. Robert Y. Turner. Admission: Yes, but there is no admission charge on Sun. Hours: Tue.-Fri., 11am-5pm; first Fri., till 8pm; Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun., noon-5pm. Contact: 803/799-2810 or at (www.columbiamuseum.org).

SC State Museum, 301 Gervais St., Columbia. Through May 6 - "Tangible History: South Carolina Stoneware from the Holcombe Family Collection". This exhibit consists of some of the best pieces of SC stoneware from the extensive collection of the Holcombe family of Clinton, SC. Most of this exquisite pottery has never been on public display before. The show will include some classic Dave (a slave potter who worked in clay from the 1830s into the 1860s) pieces, to upstate examples from the Thomas Owenby and other important 19th century potters. The family collection will be supplemented with some pieces from the State Museum collection and a potter's wheel that contemporary potters will use to demonstrate their craft on selected weekends. Through 2015 - "The Coming of the Civil War," will look at the origins of the disagreement between South Carolina and the federal government, beginning with the nullification crisis of 1832-33. The exhibit will be augmented by five more single-topic exhibits through the sesquicentennial war years (2011-2015) until the expansion space is filled. The Crescent Café, second floor mezzanine of the Museum. The house menu offers a variety of baked goods, juices, coffee, hot chocolate and tea. Hyman Fine Arts Center, Francis Marion University, Florence. Through Feb. 16 - "Art Interpreting Music," featuring an exhibit of works by Ev Niewoehner. The artist says, "Although I have worked in a number of genres, including still life, landscape, cityscape, and surrealism, it has been the subject of music which has captured my imagination and has led to my most enjoyable and satisfying work." Through Feb. 16 - "Much Ado About Nothing," featuring a exhibit of ceramics by Johnny Nutt. The artist says, "My work is, at its most basic, all about contrasts: busy and spare, glossy and flat, light and dark, smooth and rough, round and angular, mechanical and organic, substantive and superficial. I enjoy working on the wheel, plain and simple. I tend to work in long series, first producing a studio full of forms, stopping only when I have either run out of clay or adequate shelf-space. At that point I basically put the wheel away so I can turn my attention completely to the task of addressing the surfaces of the vessels and platters." Feb. 21 - Mar. 29 - "African American Art from the collection of Cassandra Rush". Growing up in Williamsburg County between the Nesmith community and the town of Kingstree, Rush does not remember viewing art in any form as a child. She could distinguish beauty from not-so-appealing objects, but the realization of art was not conceptualized until she was a student in the required Art Appreciation class at Morgan State University in Baltimore, MD. She became a dealer of African American art in 1990 with the main focus to accessorize her new home with the art she loves. In the process of meeting new artists and admiring their works,
