cattails by Kevin Kuhnel; clay and metal blossoms by Shandi Berls; copper garden crosses by Tony Carr; wood candle votives by James "Red" Saunders; reverse glass window painting by Mary Paulson; hand-painted birdhouses by Maria McLamb; and folk art by Hoyle Wagner. Also showing in the exhibition are potters Cheryl Davis, Marty Allran and Courtney Tomchik ; oil painters Janet Parker, Ruth Cox and Mary E. Smith; and acrylic artist Dann Ward.

The unusual gallery, which showcases artists from the two Carolinas, recently opened its Eclectic Closet, a collection of vintage furniture, antique finds and other unique pieces that used correctly can help personalize a living space.

Since opening in 2002, Sunset River Marketplace has become an active supporter of performing, literary and visual arts in the area. The 10,000 square-foot gallery features work by over 200 North and South Carolina artists. Its on-site pottery studio has two kilns and three wheels for use by students. Ongoing oil, pastel and watercolor classes are also provided, in addition to workshops by nationally known artists. A framing department offers full-service, on-site custom frame design.

Hillsborough Gallery of Arts in Hillsborough, NC, Offers Works by Arianna Bara, Pat Lloyd, & Pat Merriman

The Hillsborough Gallery of Arts in Hillsborough, NC, will present The Fifth Element, featuring metalsmith jewelry by Arianna Bara, turned wood by Pat Lloyd, and paintings by Pat Merriman, on view from May 26 through June 22, 2014. A reception will be held on May 30, from 6-9pm.

What is the Fifth Element? Each artist describes it a little differently - void, spirit, thought or path, creative energy, inventiveness, intuition, the "here" or center, a signal that the soul is speaking.

For Pat Lloyd it began with a journey to the Portland Japanese Gardens last fall. "The guide pointed out a large Japanese stone lantern and described the 5 traditional elements in Japanese Buddhism: Earth,
