Works by Adriana Ameigh

tion explores the significance of materials and their seemingly magical transformation through the artistic process. Much like alchemy, materials and ideas can be combined, reinvented, and translated to create something new. Wet pigments become finished paintings, and soft clay solidifies into sculptural vessels - their emerging shapes, colors and textures convey the stories embedded in the work. Ongoing - The Diamante Arts & Cultural Center is a non-profit (501c3), a community grounded, arts and culture organization dedicated to the preservation, development, and promotion of the culture, heritage, and artistic expressions of the diverse Latino/Hispanic population in North Carolina. Diamante Arts and Cultural Center, the oldest Latino/Hispanic Arts and Culture organization in North Carolina, is celebrating 25 years of service. Through its programs and activities, it reaches more than 16,000 people per year. Recently, Diamante launched the Latino Artists Database, which collects information on Latino/x, and Hispanic artists in North Carolina. The information will be used to build and share opportunities for Latino artists throughout the state. Latino artists may add their information by visiting (bit.ly/Diamante-database). Gregg Museum of Art & Design, The Historic Chancellor's Residence, NC State University, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, Raleigh. Black/Sanderson Gallery, Through July 23 - "True Likeness," presents an exhibition of contemporary portraits from diverse makers in a variety of media including video, photography, painting, collage, installation, sculpture, printmaking, and drawing. Artists, some familiar, others more on the fringe of the art world, hail from all over the United States. Their own identities, and those presented through their works, provide a snapshot of who we are as a country. As the exhibition took shape over the last few years, as overt and coded hate speech became congruent with one of the most divisive elections of our time, it became apparent that highlighting and celebrating diversity was paramount. Adams and Woodson Galleries, Feb. 2 - Oct. 7 - "This is Not: Aldwyth in Retrospect," curated by Mark Sloan, celebrates the life and work of the one-name artist, Aldwyth. Now approaching eighty-eight, the artist surveys the constellation of influences that have brought her this far. Aldwyth has lived and worked in the same octagonal studio/house at the edge of a salt marsh on a small island adjacent to Hilton Head Island, South Carolina, since 1980. For more than six decades, she has been producing significant work in relative seclusion from the larger art world. This retrospective takes measure of her entire artistic output from 1953 to present, highlighting the points at which her fascinations have evolved into obsessions. It also traces the connections between her personal biography and the content of her work.

Historic Residence, Ongoing - One of NC State University's most historic buildings is now the permanent home of the Gregg Museum of Art & Design. The Historic Chancellor's Residence, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, along with a 15,000 sq. ft. addition, increases the museum's visibility while significantly adding to its exhibition and programming space. Hours: The Gregg Museum is suspending the need for timed entry reservations. Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm. The Gregg does ask that larger groups (15+) call ahead at (919) 515-3503, to avoid crowding in the galleries. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244 or at (https://gregg. arts.ncsu.edu/).

North Carolina Museum of Art, 2110 Blue Ridge Road, Raleigh. Through Feb. 26 - "Powers Concealed: Egúngúns from Africa and America," showcases egúngúns, created with layers of sumptuous, paneled fabrics sourced locally and globally, that typically appear at annual festivals to honor the past and seek blessings for the future. The exhibition will feature a Nigerian Yorùbá ensemble from the 1930s in the NCMA's collection alongside a newly commissioned egúngún titled Baba Eleko and presented by Babatunde Akinsegun, Alagba, or hereditary chief of egúngún at Oyotunji Village in South Carolina. East Building, Level B, Joyce W. Pope Gallery, Through Feb., 5 - "Start Talking: Fischer/Shull Collection of Contemporary Art". This exhibition features selected pieces from an exceptional promised gift to the NCMA from the collection of Hedy Fischer and Randy Shull. Amassed over the past three decades and still ongoing, the collection includes seminal works by Abraham Cruzvillegas, Vanessa German, Trenton Doyle Hancock, Graciela Iturbide, Pope.L, Tina Modotti, Gabriel Rico, Alison Saar, Hank Willis Thomas, Nari Ward, and many others. This transformative gift will significantly expand the scope of the People's Collection. It will augment works by artists currently in the collection and add works by artists previously not represented, enabling the Museum to present a comprehensive picture of the many major movements and artists in contemporary art. Ann and Jim Goodnight Museum Park, Through Mar., 31 - "Fall 2022 Billboards: Ralph Burns". Burns surveys the artist's distinguished black-and-white documentarian style. These photographs capture the intricacies of worship, ritual, and love through an impartial lens. As Burns states, he uses his camera as a tool "to try to understand." In one photo a penitent in Mexico carries the statue of Our Lady of Guadalupe. Ann and Jim Goodnight East Building, Level B, Video Gallery, Photography Gallery 1 (Julian T. Baker Jr. Gallery) and 2 (Allen G. Thomas Jr. Gallery), Through Feb. 12 - " Outlandish: Photographs by Ralph Burns I Photographs from the Collection of Allen G. Thomas Jr. Using photography from the Museum's collection, this exhibition examines the peculiarity of human experience and expression. In one gallery a photo series by Asheville-based photographer Ralph Burns captures the intricacies of worship, ritual, and love. For decades he followed crowds of devout Elvis fans during their pilgrimages to Graceland. Burns's documentarian style demonstrates a deep understanding of humanness and emotional connection. Ongoing - "Break the Mold: New Takes on Traditional Art Making". The exhibit showcases contemporary artists who use traditional modes of art making and crafting to tackle timely subject matter. Innovative takes on embroidery, ceramics, guilting, furniture, interior design, and fashion accessories serve to explore diverse topics such as gender assumptions and inequalities, prison reform, racial justice, memory, and loss, as well as now objects transmit and transform social and cultural history. This show features 25 contemporary artists, including Sanford Biggers, Elizabeth Brim, Maria Britton, Julie Cockburn, Rodney McMillan, Rachel Meginnes, Katy Mixon, Gabriel de la Mora, Yasumasa Morimura, Thomas Schmidt, Shinique Smith, and Do Ho Suh, whose artworks are displayed alongside some of their historical predecessors.
