Focus Gallery, Through June 6 - "RAMEN + RICE | the idiosyncratic bowl." The bowl is a humble form, yet it plays an essential role in our daily life. Artists who have chosen to be a maker of bowls, know it is far more idiosyncratic than you and I might imagine. A bowl has innumerable uses, and with each comes a multitude of creative interpretations. For this exhibition, the artists have been asked to imagine a bowl for ramen or rice - for which there are notable traditional parameters defined by the use, the hand that holds it, and cultural traditions. The bowl is, not surprisingly, a subject for scholars and poets. Ongoing - On display outside the Penland Gallery are sculptures by ceramic artist Catherine White, large steel sculptures by Daniel T. Beck, and works by Hoss Haley. There is also an interactive, outdoor installation by Jeff Goodman titled, "The Kindness for Imaginary Things... Hours: Tue.-Sat., 10am-5pm & Sun. noon-5pm. CAM Raleigh, 409 W. Martin Street, between Harrington and West streets, Raleigh. Independent Weekly Gallery, Through Aug. 8 - "Kennedi Carter: Flexing / New Realm". The verb "to flex" essentially has one of two meanings. It can mean to show off, to gloat, or to boast, which is the most popular definition of the word; however, it can also mean to put on a fake front, to fake it, or force it. The second definition is usually used in conjunction with the first — as in, someone who's gloating about something that they've really got no right to gloat about, lying about an accomplishment, or exaggerating the truth. Mezzanine Wall, Through Aug. 8 - "Alun Be: Madame Badiane". View of the "A Thousand Throws" exhibit

Gregg Museum of Art & Design, The Historic Chancellor's Residence, NC State University, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, Raleigh. Black-Sanderson Gallery, Through May 9 - "Objects of Intention," featuring works by Stephen Althouse. Beginning as sculptures, these powerful and startling images of age-old agricultural implements provide a visual language used to comment on the human condition. The photographic prints are extremely large scale, 9 feet wide in some cases, and feature sculptures created by sculptor-photographer Althouse using manmade objects, cloth, tools, and simple farm machinery. Randy and Susan Woodson Gallery, Through June 27 - "Animate Earth -Adventures in Mimetolithia by Andy Nasisse". For the past several years, Andy Nasisse has explored the figure in the landscape, engaging with what is probably the most basic impulse of the human imagination: the tendency to "see things in things." Nasisse plays with this deeply planted instinct by focusing his lens on naturally eroded rock formations in the Southwest and South, while making clay pieces that challenge the viewer to discern the intentionality that went into creating them. Valeria C. Adams Gallery, Through July 18 - "A Thousand Thrown," an installation by artist and potter Daniel Johnston. An immersive experience of controlled pace, interaction, and a compelling mix of traditional pottery and contemporary art. After studying under such masters as J.B. Cole and Mark Hewitt, Daniel Johnston traveled from his home in Randolph County, NC to England and Thailand, studying techniques such as large vessel making and working among master potters and long held traditions. As he explored his skills and mastery of the craft of pottery, he also began also to develop his appreciation of different ways of looking at his work and how he might realize their conceptual possibilities, by using these vessels to manipulate light, scale and space. Ongoing - One of NC State University's most historic buildings is now the permanent home of the Gregg Museum of Art & Design. The Historic Chancellor's Residence, located at 1903 Hillsborough Street, along with a 15,000 sq. ft. addition, increases the museum's visibility while significantly adding to its exhibition and programming space. Hours: The Gregg Museum is suspending the need for timed entry reservations. Current museum hours are Tuesday - Friday, 10am to 5pm. The Gregg does ask that larger groups (15+) call ahead at (919) 515-3503 to avoid crowding in the galleries. Contact: Zoe Starling, Curator of Education at 919/513-7244 or

North Carolina Museum of History, 5 East Edenton Street, (between Salisbury and Wilmington Streets), Raleigh. Through Jan. 2, 2022 - "Are We There Yet? North Carolina's Variety Vacationland, 1930s-1970s". This photography exhibit will invite visitors to take a look back, at an era when tourism boomed thanks largely to a state-run marketing effort called "Variety Vacationland." The Variety Vacationland campaign was successful in creating a unified tourism industry in North Carolina from the 1930s to the 1970s by depicting our state as both modern and progressive, but with strong ties to its past. True to the Jim Crow era, however, most sites promoted were marketed (and accessible) only to White tourists; people of color were neglected and even exploited at times, an attitude this exhibit attempts to point out where possible. Ongoing - Featuring exhibits dealing with North Carolina's history as a theme. Sweet Tea & Cornbread Grill and Eatery, located on the R Level, open Mon.-Sat., from 11am to 3pm. Download the full menu at (https:// files.nc.gov/dncr-moh/Sweet%20Tea%20 and%20Cornbread_MENU%202019.pdf).
