A reception will be held on June 6, from 6-9pm. Spoonbill Gallery is proud to present two solo exhibitions opening simultaneously during June, showcasing the distinct yet harmoniously connected voices of both artists explore the beauty and stillness of domestic nature—one through a tranquil garden's geometry, the other through a vibrant backyard's storytelling layers. Kate Schultz's work evokes a quiet reverence for the natural world, celebrating the meditative qualities of flora, native birds, and gentle landscapes. In contrast, Berkley Wooten's "Mom's Backyard" buzzes with the layered energy of memory, home, and Southern charm. Inspired by her mother Beverly's carefully tended and artfully curated backyard, Wooten brings forward joyful compositions full of movement, pattern, and personal history. July 4 - 26 - "The Land That Shapes Us," a powerful exhibition featuring new works by Greenville-based artists Sunny Mullarkey McGowan and Eva Magill-Oliver. This collection celebrates nature as the ultimate teacher: resilient in the face of storms, a nurturer of life, and a seeker of harmony. These themes are reflected through richly layered works that embody the textures, colors, and rhythms of the land. Each piece invites viewers to engage in a visual dialogue about endurance, transformation, and renewal. The result is a deeply personal and resonant body of work that encourages reflection and connection. Ongoing - The gallery's collection features a variety of national artists complemented by a showcase of rising talents.
